5 Essentials for Faculty

1. Liaison Services: The librarian assigned to your school, department, center, institute or program is your personal contact for assistance with or information about library services, collections and available resources. Consult a librarian for help with comprehensive literature reviews, to participate on systematic review projects or to identify grant sources. Invite a librarian to teach classes on principles of evidence-based practice, database searching and other electronic resources to you, your students, residents or staff. 2. Electronic Resources: Anytime, Anywhere, Even Point of Care! You have access to more than 20,000 electronic full-text journals, ebooks, point of care tools, and databases, including the Cochrane Library, PubMed, Embase, ClinicalKey, UpToDate, and CINAHL. Login from anywhere using your VCU eID and password. link

3. Access Online Full-Text Articles Using [Get It]@VCU and ILLiad: Look for the GetIt@VCU button to online full-text when searching databases such as PubMed or CINAHL. If we don’t own a journal article you need, we can get it for you through interlibrary loan. If VCU Libraries has the materials but you need help retrieving it, our delivery services save you time. Copies of articles and chapters are delivered electronically to you. link

4. Community Health Education Center (CHEC): CHEC personnel help patients and their families find reliable information. Foster health information literacy and improve patient knowledge by referring your patients to this free resource on the first floor of the Gateway Building. An informed patient is a healthier patient. link

5. Scholars Compass: An open access publishing platform for the intellectual output of the VCU Community, the Scholars Compass provides wide and stable access to the work of VCU’s faculty, researches, students, and staff. link
